

[VERSE 1]

Am C
Your words bash me over the head. You switch 'em
G
around, that wasn't what you sed.
Am C
We get stuck in this crazy loop. Ctrl+c this shit and put G
me in your group.
F
My requests are directed to your null device.
C
You said I was important but you always renice
F C
I can't get you out of your shell. And I know it's a pipe dream.

[CHORUS]

C G
Why won't you be, be, be -v with me?
G C
I don't have time for this. Don't have the energy.
G
Be be be -v with me.
G C
Don't you understand I can't grep your memory.

[VERSE 2]

Am C
We're not using the same distribution. It's painfully clear
G
we don't have a solution.
Am C
We're lost along this path. I don't understand, this should be simple math.
G
F
There are no options for this argument.
C
This really shouldn't be such a tournament.
F C
We just need to stop and configure. Let me into your /etc.

[CHORUS]

C G
Why won't you be, be, be -v with me?
G C
I don't have time for this. Don't have the energy.
G
Be be be -v with me.
G C
Don't you understand I can't grep your memory.

[BRIDGE]

Dm
Let's sit around a while and just compile.
G
Let's clear up some line noise.
Dm
I'm a vi girl in your emacs world,
G
which requires great poise.

[CHORUS]

C G
Why won't you be, be, be -v with me?
G C
I don't have time for this. Don't have the energy.
G
Be be be -v with me.
G C
Don't you understand I can't grep your memory.
